It may also be required to process special categories of personal data set out in Article 9.1 of the Act as a result of one or more of the exemptions listed in Article 9.2 due to the School's compliance with regulation 5 of The Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

Storing pupil data

We hold pupil data for the time during which they are on roll at the School. Digital and physical files are then transferred to the child's new school when they leave. Some data may be retained after a child has left the School if the retention period extends beyond the date on which the child leaves the School:

- Records of complaints dealt with by the Governing Body – date of resolution +6years
- Free School Meals Registers – current year +6years
- Class records, books and marking – current year +1year
- Assessment data held for accountability and comparison purposes – current year +6years
- Multimedia data containing pupils – current year +6years with some data retained for School historical archiving purposes

Physical files that are not passed on to next Schools and records that are not returned to the pupil are securely shredded. Computer media (hard drives, USB drives, SD cards etc.) holding pupil digital data that is obsolete or being repurposed, will be disposed of by mechanical shredding or securely erasing (using a utility to erase and then overwrite the whole of the media with random data and then a second pass of zeros).

The National Pupil Database (NPD)

This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and awarding bodies.

We are required by law, to provide information about our pupils to the DfE as part of statutory data collections such as the school census and early years' census.
